Dear Marty,

Please find attached my application for the Stafford County Board Bank. This application is submitted for a specific board position within the Architectural Review Board (ARB), that being the position of archaeologist.

I was made aware of this position during recent telephone conversations with Wendy Wheatcraft, Historic Preservation Planner, Department of Planning & Zoning. I contacted Wendy reference some information relating to my archaeology studies, and she indicated that the ARB had an open position for a person with an archaeology background. I am currently a graduate student in archaeology and heritage studies with the University of Leicester, Leicester, United Kingdom. My studies will be complete in Spring of 2009, but in the meantime my education to date, which is strong in cultural resource management, should hold me in very good stead for the open position within the ARB.

In addition to my education, I have a keen interest in helping my community wherever possible. I also look at this as an opportunity to better prepare myself for a future career as an archaeological consultant upon my graduation from Leicester. I view any opportunity to serve my community, and at the same time gain valuable experience and contacts in my future profession, with great enthusiasm. I request that you give my application serious and positive consideration, and that you select me for the open position within this important county board.

Respectfully,

Tab A. Blazek
